From June 11 to June 15, 2018, the college hosted a three-day faculty development programme collaborated with Madha Engineering College on "Effective Team Buliding". The FDP programme received an over whelming response from the aspirants and finally the programme was attended by the total of 30 faculty members from various college and different departments. During this event, experts from college guided the participants and understand the importance of working in a team. Also, the queries of the participants were well addressed by the resource persons. There were 8 sessions throughout the course of this 3-day programme, which were followed with participant comments and an exam. The participants found this FDP quite beneficial. The workshop was quite educational for everyone, and the FDP was packed with knowledge. The resource person explanations were really informative. Additionally, many participants asked that future FDPs of the same kind be organized. The participants who successfully finished the programme received a certificate as well.
